Every Wednesday through college football season, we are giving away a tailgating necessity to help you create the ultimate Southern tailgate. Check in each week to see what it is and enter for a chance to win!

When you are walking around campus all day long, you'll want to make sure you're wearing comfortable shoes. Pluggz flats are not only comfy, they're also available in colors that show off your team spirit—for tide fans, houndstooth is no longer reserved for a hat. They are giving away a pair to one winner who can select her favorite style and color.

How To Enter: Why do you want to walk away with a new pair of shoes? Comment below for a chance to win!

The contest begins today and ends December 2. Official rules here.
