Walk It Out

GET TO STEPPIN' IN SHOES THAT FEEL AND LOOK GOOD.

It's travel season, and that means there's plenty of walking to be done. But what's a diva to do when her Jimmy Choos won't cut it? All stilettos aside, the shoes of the moment are a far more grounded group. Technologically savvy, blending style with science, they absorb shock, disperse friction, have quilted foot beds and arch support, keep you from slipping and realign your stride for a strut that's pain free and—dare we say—sexy. Oh, yeah! From sneakers to ballerinas to thongs to wedges, these ain't your grandmom's walking shoes—but then again, they could be if she's fly like that!
